

Security Officer Services for Construction Environments

Ensuring Safe & Secure Construction Sites

Sunstates Security has extensive experience providing coverage for both short- and long-term construction projects and are familiar with the unique challenges and continuously changing requirements associated with this type of work. We know that in a construction setting, a security officer's focus on safety is equally as important as security. We understand the inherent challenges of protecting an open construction environment where expensive supplies and equipment are unsecured, and a variety of contractors and visitors pass through daily. The open access environment, high foot traffic, and variety of unrelated operating elements within the construction environment (suppliers, vendors, contractors, etc.) create a complex system that requires officers who are not only customer service oriented, but also very alert, attentive to details, effective in enforcement of access control and inventory management, and who are trained and prepared to respond immediately to emergent situations.

Our security officers are carefully screened and go through a rigorous training program that includes a heavy focus on safety. Officers working at construction sites can perform numerous functions to include:

- Foot or vehicle patrols of site perimeter; foot patrols of building structures to serve as a deterrent to criminal activity and to identify potential safety hazards
- Maintaining strict access control by logging in and out all contractors and visitors
- Maintaining inventory control ensuring that only properly approved equipment and supplies are removed from the site
- Fire watch
- Contractor / visitor safety orientation

Our Experience

Sunstates Security is an industry leader with a differentiated approach to providing quality contract security services to Fortune 500 companies, short and long term construction projects, municipalities and small business entities alike. Sunstates has over 9 million hours of contract security experience, and all the resources and strength you expect from the largest providers, but our organization is uniquely structured to ensure consistently superior, client-centric service at the local level. The depth and breadth of our expertise and capabilities easily rival that of the industry giants, while our management team is involved and invested in every account to a degree that even in-house security teams often cannot match.

Sunstates has performed numerous security details for construction clients spanning a wide variety of projects, from short term construction lasting only weeks, to major projects spanning several years. Some of our construction clients include Alpha Technologies, DPR Construction, Zachary International, Matrix Construction and Manhattan Construction to name only a few.

Sunstates Security seeks partners who share the same values as us, and who want to work collaboratively to achieve the most efficient and cost effective solution to achieving their security goals.
